BOY KILLS OLD MAN; CLAIMS SELF-DEFENSE

Charles Cooke Shot in Henrico by T. E. Hampton, Who Surrenders.

HAD ROW OVER CATTLE

Slayer Declares That Cooke Was Advancing With Blackjack When He Fired.

After a quarrel over some cattle on the Lipford Dairy Farm, about two and a half miles east of the city, yesterday afternoon, Charles Cooke, a tenant, was shot and killed by T. E. Hampton, an employee. The weapon used was a shotgun loaded with small shot. Cooke was shot in his left side, and died before he could be brought to the city for an operation. Hampton, who is a boy between the age of eighteen and nineteen years, immediately surrendered to Deputy Sheriff W. W. Snyder, who carried him to the county jail. He had not been bailed last night.

No Witnesses to Tragedy.

When the killing occurred the two men were alone; hence the story told by Hampton is the only account of the affair that can be had. He said last night that the cattle which were in his charge got loose and went into the crop of Cooke, who became infuriated and came to him, cursing and abusing him. He declared that Cooke had a blackjack, with which he threatened to kill him.

Fearing bodily harm, Hampton armed himself with a double-barreled shotgun, and again went out to meet Cooke, warning him to be careful. Cooke, he says, paid no attention to him, but came on with the blackjack in his hand. When some distance off Hampton threw up the gun and fired into the ground, hoping to scare him away. Still, he alleges, Cooke continued to advance, probably thinking that he was afraid to fight again. When he got within about thirty paces the boy fired the second charge into his left side, just over the heart, and he fell to the ground.

Hampton says he went to him at once and saw that he was in a dangerous condition and not able to speak. Then, without saying anything to his employers, he went at once to the house of Mr. Snyder, the nearest officer to the Lipford farm, and gave himself up, telling the circumstances.

Mr. Snyder placed him under arrest and telephoned at once for Dr. George E. Barksdale to take charge of the wounded man while he carried Hampton to jail.

Dr. Barksdale has as soon as possible, but there was no hope of Cooke's recovery when he got there. Nevertheless, he was hurried to the city, but before he reached Fulton he breathed his last, without regaining consciousness. He was carried to the undertaking establishment of A. C. Nelson, in Fulton.

At the last last night, Hampton was not the least nervous. He said that he had acted in self-defense, and that it was either that he would have to kill Cooke or be killed himself. He says that he is a native of North Carolina, and has been employed on the Lipford farm six months. His mother still lives there. A warrant will be served on him in the jail this morning.

Cooke was between fifty and sixty years of age, and was married, but had no children. He had been working on the farm for some time. So far as is known, there had never before been any difficulty between the two.

After he was informed of the reason for his arrest, Kennedy stated that there were no criminal charges, and that the trouble grew out of a business partnership in Richmond, now dissolved. Late last night he gave bond for his appearance in the Norfolk Police Court this morning. It is expected that he will be held until the arrival of the Richmond detective, who has been detailed to bring him here.

Several Speakers Will Present Invitation and Urge Its Acceptance.

At a meeting of the Committee on Advertising Richmond last night, Business Manager William T. Dabney, of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that he had been approached by Oliver J. Sands, of the local Bankers' Association, asking that the Chamber and municipality make an effort to have the American Bankers' Association, which meets at Chicago September 13, 14, 15, come to this city next year.

Mr. Dabney explained to the committee that the Chamber was willing to take the matter up and do all in its power to secure the convention, which is one of the most important in the country, with the co-operation of the municipality. He stated, however, that it was the policy of the Chamber in going after conventions to act merely as a reinforcement to the local interests, and never actually take the initiative in inviting any body to meet here.

To Present Invitation.

The committee agreed with him and decided that the invitation should be tendered by the Clearing-House Association.

Members of this association will place the formal invitation in the hands of Mr. Sands before he leaves the city. The chairman of the committee, will select a man to represent the city, while Mr. Dabney will go to present the claims of the Chamber of Commerce. It is said that there will be little trouble in bringing this convention to Richmond next year.

Dr. Reade, who went as the city's representative to the laundrymen's convention in Chicago, and the advertising convention at Louisville, made the report. He said that though Richmond failed to get the advertisers, he believed the city got more advertisement out of the effort than it would have if they had decided to come here. He was tendered the thanks of the committee for his efforts.

BARKSDALE LAW BROKEN BY TWO

Williams and Brown Fail to Return Expense Accounts Within Thirty Days.

By the records in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth it is shown that two of the candidates who ran for office in the recent State Democratic primary have failed to comply with the provisions of the Barksdale pure election law, which requires that expense accounts shall be filed within thirty days after any primary or convention is held. The delinquents are Judge Samuel W. Williams, of Wythe, who was nominated for the office of Attorney-General, and J. Thompson Brown, of Bedford, who came very near defeating George W. Kolner for the office of Commissioner of Agriculture.

It may be that the accounts of these two men have been delayed in the mail, but to last night they had not been received at the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

The law imposes a penalty in such cases, though it may be said that in no case has it ever been enforced.
